Partner With Us!

Connect with the leaders shaping the future of California's skilled nursing and long-term care community. Our educational programs bring together professionals who influence clinical excellence, operational performance, workforce development, reimbursement, and quality of care.

Sponsorship offers your organization a valuable opportunity to build relationships with key decision-makers, showcase your products and services, and demonstrate your commitment to advancing quality care and strengthening the long-term care profession. Partner with QCHF to elevate your visibility, build meaningful industry connections, and position your organization as a valued supporter of California's long-term care community.

Become a QCHF sponsor today and put your organization in front of the professionals who are making a difference in long-term care. Explore our sponsorship opportunities and find the right fit for your organization.
