National Silver Quality Award Recognition for Two California Skilled Nursing Facilities
Honored for Best Practices in Delivery of Quality Care

SACRAMENTO, CA – The American Health Care Association (AHCA)/National Center for Assisted Living (NCAL) National Quality Awards Program has announced the names of the long-term care providers that earned this year's Silver – Achievement in Quality Award. The award is the second of three distinctions possible through the program for facilities that serve as models of excellence in providing high-quality care.

This year's award winners include the following:

- Veterans Home of California – Fresno, Fresno
- Watsonville Nursing Center, Watsonville

"Earning the Silver award is no small feat," said CAHF CEO/President Craig Cornett. "This recognition is a clear reflection of the staff's hard work and unwavering focus on delivering superior care and service to residents on a daily basis."

The program has three levels: Bronze, Silver, and Gold. As a recipient of the Silver – Achievement in Quality Award, systematic advancements in quality, plans for continual improvement, and sustainable organizational goals have all been demonstrated.
