Improve Staff Retention Rates

Pathway Health is pleased to offer the Geri-Res Nurse Residency Programs for recent graduates and nurses who are new to assisted living, long term care and skilled nursing. The residency programs have been developed at the Center for Aging Research and Education at the University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Nursing.

Geri-Res Nurse Residency Program Courses

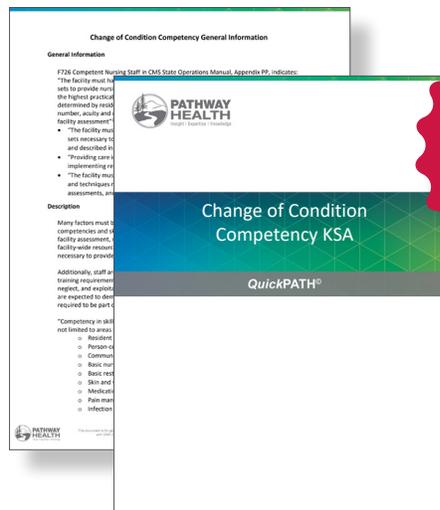

The Geri-Res Long Term Care Nurse Residency Program offers essential training and a dual mentor/mentee curriculum, all built from a relevant and strong industry knowledge base.

- Makes nurses feel supported in their job, which leads to higher job satisfaction among nurses and longer retention of staff.
- Reinforces the foundational teachings of working in geriatric care, and makes nurses feel better prepared, more supported and more confident in their work.
- Upholds a high quality standard for facilities and their staff and prepares nurses for their work, giving leadership “the best.”
- Dual curriculum for mentor and mentee optimizes the curriculum and ensures nurses have a point person for discussions and questions.

CAHF Members who register for a Geri-Res Nurse Residency Program course will receive a FREE e-Book, “Change of Condition Competency KSA,” by entering the special promo code CAHF24 at check-out.

Available to CAHF members based on an agreement between Pathway Health and the Quality Care Health Foundation (QCHF).
